

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

DR FRED KAKOOZA

STUDENT - MSC DIGITAL EDUCATION

Alongside being enrolled in the programme, Fred teaches in the Department of Journalism and Communications at Makerere University. His teaching areas cut across broadcast journalism, photography and visual communication, digital and multimedia journalism as well as communication research.

“ I would not have afforded [to enrol in the programme] if it was a purely physical programme. The very nature of its delivery allows you to self-pace and plan your time amidst other commitments. ”

“ I am in the process of acquiring the needed pedagogical skills for online teaching and learning. ”

“ The interaction and networking with colleagues on the course that are in different locations around the globe has expanded my social network. ”
